BCIT Staff Receive Alumni Achievement Awards

Two outstanding alumni have recently been awarded the Alumni Achievement Award. Both recipients also happen to be on staff at BCIT.

Mario Mazziotti graduated from BCIT with Honours in Computing Systems Technology in 1974. He is currently completing a B.Sc. degree at SFU and hopes to go into the MBA program.

Mario Mazziotti receives Achievement Award for Career Development from association President, John Leech.

Following graduation, Mario went to work initially with Nissan Automobile Canada. In 1975 he joined BCIT in the Computer Resources Department. He became manager of Data Processing in 1980, Acting Registrar in 1982, and Director of Student Services in 1983 with the Pacific Vocational Institute. In 1986 he was appointed Registrar of BCIT.

Marsh Heinekey is a BCIT graduate in Civil and Structural, 1975. He too went on to further education and completed a Bachelor of Technology in Civil Engineering from Ryerson in 1982. He is presently working through Waterloo University toward a B.Sc.

Marsh spent 15 years in Construction Materials Engineering. He held a number of positions including Inspector, Lab Supervisor, and Manager of Field Engineering. For the last 10 years he's been on staff at BCIT teaching both day and part-time programs. He also teaches a third year Civil Materials Engineering Course at UBC.

Mario and Marsh received their achievement awards during the open session of the most recent Board of Governors meeting. BCIT gave these gentlemen a start, now they give BCIT the benefits of their accomplishments.

John Leech, President presents Marsh Heinekey with Alumni Achievement Award in Career Development.

Alumni News Update

The cherry blossoms are out and Spring is almost here. As you can see we're getting ready for the next Annual General Meeting. We have an exciting program lined up for you that is both fun and informative and it all will take place in the beautifully appointed British Columbia Club. You can register by calling the Alumni Office at (604) 432-8847.

CASE Gold Award

The Alumni Association recently received a gold award in alumni relations improvement from The Council for Advancement and Support of Education. This award would not have been possible without the solid support of the BCIT administration. To show our appreciation, the association Board of Directors presented a framed copy of the award to Roy Murray, President and Malcolm Wickson, Chairman, BCIT Board of Governors. The award is permanently on display in the Administration Building Boardroom.

Nicki Magnolo and Melanie Wheating present the CASE Gold Award to Malcolm Wickson and Roy Murray.

Okanagan Reception

A reception for alumni living in the Okanagan area was held on February 1, 1987. The turn out was disappointing. If you received an invitation but were unable to attend please complete the survey anyway. We need your input so that we can offer activities in your area that are of interest to you. Mail completed surveys to the BCIT Alumni Office, 3700 Willingdon Avenue, Burnaby B.C. V5G 3H2.

Recreation Identification

Alumni are welcome to use the recreation facilities on campus but you will need identification. Alumni Association cards or Willingdon Club cards are available through the Alumni Office. See page 8 for information on Spring recreation programs.

January Convocation

Another 92 students have experienced the thrill of graduation. 41 students from General Nursing and 51 from Electrical/Electronics completed their BCIT training in January. Best of luck to all our new alumni.

January Convocation ceremonies for General Nursing and Electrical/Electronics.

CASE Conference Coeur d'Alene, Idaho

BCIT was well represented at the CASE District VIII conference in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. Seven people from BCIT attended including Melanie Wheating, Vice President and Nicki Magnolo, Executive Director from the Alumni Association. The conference offered in-depth workshops on alumni relations, educational fund raising, communications and graphic design. It was also an excellent opportunity to network with other alumni associations from all over Western Canada and Western United States. Next year the conference will be held in Vancouver co-chaired by Nicki Magnolo and Liz Owen, Special Events Coordinator-Development from UBC.

Nicki Magnolo promoting the 1988 Conference in Vancouver.

It is approaching one year since the official merger of BCIT and PVI. Changes are still being made to the organization but overall the transition has been fairly smooth. The association has offered their assistance in four areas: 1) development of a new educational council; 2) input into a basic hiring policy for BCIT that gives equal consideration to BCIT graduates; 3) the naming of buildings on campus; and 4) the development of a new BCIT crest. With these and many other activities ahead, our Spring is sure to be very busy and interesting.

by Nicki Magnolo, Executive Director.

New Mission Statement for the Alumni Association and the Institute

BCIT Alumni Association

Mission Statement

To further the interest of the B.C. Institute of Technology; its students and graduates; and technological and trades training to meet the needs of business, industry and society.

Goals Statement

1. To enhance the role of technological and trades training in British Columbia, throughout Canada and internationally as an educational resource contributing to economic and social development.
2. To promote BCIT as a centre of excellence in delivering technological and trades training and conducting applied research.
3. To promote the professional recognition of BCIT graduates.
4. To assist BCIT students to achieve their educational goals by supplying ongoing educational resources and financial aid.
5. To develop and maintain relationships with business, government, professional and academic groups, the public and the media to improve and promote technological education, the B.C. Institute of Technology, and its graduates.

"One of the key objectives of the Board is to get a firm grip on the purpose and direction of the Association", said John Leech, President. After considerable discussion and debate the Board felt modification to the existing statements was desirable. The Board believes the new Mission and Goals Statements reflect the spirit of the association. The new statements will be presented to the membership for endorsement at the Annual General Meeting, May 29, 1979.

BCIT

Mission Statement

"BCIT's mission is to be an innovative, flexible training institution for trades and technology that promotes and achieves excellence in technology transfer through the provision of relevant, job-related knowledge, skills and attitudes, and development assistance for business and industry."

This mission statement for BCIT was drawn up and agreed to at the Board of Governors' workshop at Whistler. President Roy Murray said, "A mission statement is a statement of overall purpose. It answers the question, 'what business should we be in?' It is therefore the first essential element in planning for our future. I am delighted that Board members and staff gave so much of their time and energy to launch us on the process of strategic planning. It will certainly assist us in recognizing and implementing our priorities as we work together to make BCIT an innovative, flexible and unique institution."

BCIT Gets New Ministry and New Minister

BCIT now comes under the jurisdiction of the new provincial Ministry of Continuing Education and Job Training headed up by newcomer to provincial politics, STAN HAGEN.

Mr. Hagen, 46, represents the Comox Valley riding where he has his own ready-mix cement company. He has a record of strong community involvement and a reputation for solid connections to the progressive Conservative Party. He served as chairman and vice chairman of the local school board and has also served on the Courtenay Advisory Planning Commission. He has been active in the Comox Valley Christian Education Society and the Comox Valley Chamber of Commerce and is an active member of the Faith Lutheran Church.

Obituary

Fred Oldfield (Hotel/Motel 1969) passed away on August 21, 1986. He fought a long battle against a tragic illness for almost two years. Fred was a leader in the hospitality industry with many years of dedicated service to the Restaurants and Food Services Association of British Columbia. The highly successful Latch Restaurant in Sidney, B.C. was owned and operated by Fred and his partner Robin Thompson. Fred will be sorely missed by his family, friends and the community.

Campus Centre Update

John Leech and Mayor Bill Lewarne discussing the new Campus Centre.

The Campus Centre is moving along nicely. The project has completed the design and model development stage. The documentation stage has been temporarily put on hold while the Project Director turns his attention toward Victoria to get the final commitment from the Provincial Government.

Also completed is the Capital (Fund Raising) Campaign Plan. This plan was endorsed in principle by the Alumni Association Board of Directors on February 11, the Student Association Executive on February 2 and the BCIT Board of Governors Facilities and Finance Committee on February 16, 1987.

Project Director, Troy Nagy states, "The Capital Campaign Plan is a result of many meetings with various campus groups. I would like to thank the Alumni Association President, John Leech, Vice President, Melanie Wheating and Executive Director, Nicki Magnolo for their terrific input. This plan would not have come together without them." The campaign will involve the development of a volunteer network. Mr. Nagy hopes to have the network in place by April and then gear up the campaign by May, 1987.

Some unexpected donations are already coming in. An example is a donation from UMA Spantec Ltd. who read about the project in the last issue of the Alumni News. UMA employs many BCIT graduates and feels the institute helps them by supplying "employable, practically skilled people who have an ingrained work ethic and would like to help with the project". So thank you UMA, and any other companies who employ BCIT grads and wish to make a tax deductible donation to the project.

Woman's Career Change Leads to Boilermaking Credentials

BCIT congratulates Heather Watt who has recently completed her apprenticeship in Boilermaking and has received her Technical Qualification as a Boilermaker Mechanic, as well as her inter-Provincial (Red Seal) Ticket. Watt is the first B.C. woman to receive this distinction although other women are now following apprenticeships in this trade as well.

Watt began her training at the Pacific Vocational Institute in 1982 and served the duration of her apprenticeship indentured to Local 359, of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders, Blacksmiths, Forgers and Helpers.

The fitting, rigging and welding of pressure vessels, etc., is quite a change from Watt's earlier work in the advertising field but it is a change to her liking. Watt cites a number of elements which make her work interesting, challenging and satisfying. Variety is an important feature since she travels to many different sites throughout the province where work is done with different crews on a range of projects. With so many variables there is a constant demand for flexibility and skill applications. While Watt enjoys the physical aspects of fabricating and repairing, she also enjoys the mental agility involved as well. Despite some stereotypes, boilermaking is not simply bull work but requires a great deal of mental fitness and self discipline as well. Watt obviously takes pride in the concrete, tangible outcome of work in the Boilermaker's jurisdiction. In fact, Watt claims that because such skills are so concretely demonstrable, competence is highly visible and therefore, commands respect more clearly than an office environment, where discrimination is more subtle and less readily dealt with. Excellent wages add to the excitement of this occupation and allow for freedom in the other areas of her life. Since Boilermaking involves the repair and renovation of existing facilities as well as the installation of new, it is rather less prone to the cyclical swings of new construction.

Heather Watt has lots of encouragement and some advice for women considering Boilermaking as their future career: talk to everyone you can; make sure to do your homework and learn everything possible about the trade; keep your sense of humour and your belief in yourself ... and GO FOR IT!!

See Beautiful B.C.

There is a continuing trend to "Discover British Columbia" and it is expected this year that there will be an even greater number of British Columbians travelling throughout the province to experience the spectacular scenery, flora and fauna that abounds in this part of the world.

As a result of the renewed interest in our province, Great Expeditions has prepared three programs with wide appeal to people of all ages. These tours are not too strenuous but participants should be reasonably fit.

Canoeing the Bowron Lakes has been especially designed for adults and seniors. Accompanied by professional guides, the leisurely pace allows plenty of time to enjoy fishing, wildlife observation, photography and fireside relaxation. The 73 mile circuit is completed in 9 days. Canoeing instruction is provided where necessary so even the novice can paddle with confidence.

Another program is Alpine Walking in Mount Robson Park. With the use of a helicopter, an alpine base camp, and professional guides, adults and seniors can experience the rewards of alpine walking amidst wild flowers and spectacular mountain vistas. Easy ridge walks with unforgettable views of Mount Robson and afternoon swims in alpine tarns are all part of this unique and satisfying vacation.

Sailing the Queen Charlottes on the 66 foot Ocean Light, you'll discover that this area is much more than a naturalist's haven. Visit Skung Gwaii (Anthony Island) and its many Haida villages, observe varied marine life such as whales, sea lions and seals as they wend their way through the channels, dine on freshly caught salmon and halibut, and enjoy the springs of Hot Springs Island.

WUSC

BCIT may soon have a student-sponsored refugee student on campus. Members of the World University Service of Canada (WUSC) Local Committee are currently reviewing dossiers on nine refugee student candidates interested in continuing their studies in Canada. Some of the nine are currently living in refugee camps in Africa, others are in temporary residence in other parts of the world. They are interested in a wide range of educational opportunities, from chef training and food processing to business administration and architectural drafting.

The Local Committee, made up of students, faculty and other members of the BCIT community, including alumni, must consider the candidates' interests in BCIT-type programs and entrance qualifications and then notify the WUSC national office in Ottawa of the most likely candidate or candidates.

The committee hopes to make the selection and have a refugee student on campus in plenty of time for the fall 1987 semester. Refugee students sponsored through WUSC Local Committees have landed immigrant status in Canada and may qualify for student loan and work programs. The committee is, however, expected to completely support the refugee student for his or her first full year of study.

Last spring the students of BCIT said "yes" to paying a one dollar per term fee levy to support the activities of the WUSC Local Committee. Sponsoring a refugee student will be a major use of the money collected and an important part of the committee's work.

In other WUSC news, two members of the Local Committee attended the WUSC national assembly, January 24-26 in Ottawa. Don Wright represented the Local Committee and Health Sciences instructor Dave Martin represented the Institute (BCIT is an institutional member of WUSC). The two participated in various workshops and meetings and met Local Committee members from campuses all across Canada.

Keynote speaker Marcel Masse, formerly President of the Canadian International Development Agency and currently Executive Director for Canada at the International Monetary Fund, discussed Third World Development as well as his first contact with WUSC, way back in 1961 when he received a WUSC scholarship to study international law.

Alumni members interested in participating in WUSC are invited to contact the Local Committee in care of Don Wright at 434-5734, local 5517, or through the BCIT Alumni Association office.

News from Financial Management Travel

The Financial Management Department has traditionally had a strong relationship with the professional accounting bodies. A substantial number of graduates of Financial Management have continued their business and professional development and education through the Certified General Accountants Association of British Columbia and the Society of Management Accountants of British Columbia programs.

Among those graduating from the 1985/86 Certified General Accountants of B.C. Program were BCIT grads: Robert Braun, Paul Brisson, Kim Brown, David Bryant, Bill Chan, Donna Chan, Michael David, Joseph Donoghue, Sharon Hutton, Sonny Joyce, Diana Joyner, Jinny Ladner, Iryna Lupynis, Cindy Maxim, Janet Nystedt, Joanne Pal, Elizabeth Peters, Walter Pfeiffer, Frank Potoma, Heidi Pylatuk, David Sale, Alan Schmelzel, Robert Smith, Raymond Solberg, Heidi Sterling, Richard Trebett, Jenie Tsui, William Vander Gaag, Nancy White and Stella Wong.

Congratulations to all!

This Video is Made to Travel

A new twelve-minute video has been completed by Information Services, designed for out-of-province viewing and indeed, distribution anywhere in the world.

In addition to a wealth of statistical information about BCIT, the tape includes on-camera statements from grads and employers, an overview of student support services, and a mission statement from President Roy Murray. Every one of the Institute's one hundred-plus trades and technology programs is listed at the close.

The new video has been shown in Kuala Lumpur, Nairobi, and Ngee Ann Polytechnic in Singapore — with whom "twinning" arrangements are being discussed.

Purchase of P.W.A. hangar heralds bright new future for BCIT's aviation programs

The size of the hangar recently purchased by BCIT from P.W.A. has to be seen to be believed, says former director of Sea Island programs, Jerry Lloyd, who predicts that the new premises will become the finest training facilities in Canada. Phase 1 of the purchase includes the hangar and adjoining workshops, with several other buildings, including a cafeteria, to follow later. A ceremony officially opening the new hangar will take place sometime in April with, it is hoped, Premier Bill Vander Zalm in attendance.

Canada Student Loans — Interest Relief for Unemployed Graduates

The Government of Canada will pay interest on full- and part-time Canada Student Loans on behalf of debtors who are unemployed because of their inability to find employment or because of temporary disability and are unable to repay their Canada Student Loans without financial hardship.

Information on eligibility and application forms are available from lenders, Canada Employment Centres, collection agencies that collect Canada Student Loans and the Student Assistance Directorate, Department of the Secretary of State of Canada.

Should your application be accepted, you will be informed of the period of relief. During the interest-free period you will not be required to make payments on the principal amounts of the loan. When the interest-free period expires you must either apply again for an extension or begin repayment of the loans under the original arrangement. The length of the original repayment period will be extended by the length of the interest-free period.

For more information write the Student Assistance Directorate, Department of the Secretary of State, P.O. Box 2090 Postal Station D, Ottawa, Ontario K1P 6V6 or phone 1-800-567-9602 or (819) 994-1844.
