

In '84: Let's get together

by Sharon Hatten, reunion coordinator

BCIT is having a birthday. To celebrate, the BCIT Alumni Association in cooperation with the 20th Anniversary Committee, is planning an "All Years Class Reunion."

Events will coincide with the re-dedication ceremonies on October 5th, 1984. This is Thanksgiving weekend and it is hoped that all previous grads will start planning now to take part in the festivities.

A proposed list of activities includes technology reunions, all-grads dance, tours of BCIT campus, re-dedication ceremonies and hospitality suites. As we are presently in the initial planning stage, we will provide an update in the next Alumni News.

If any technology is planning to have a reunion during 1984 we are offering you an excellent opportunity to co-ordinate your efforts with ours as we have facilities and funds to reach as many grads as possible. Anyone interested in helping with the "all grads reunion" please contact the Alumni office at 434-5734 local 847. I am especially interested to hear from someone in each of the Business, Health and Engineering Divisions who would be willing to act as assistant co-ordinators.

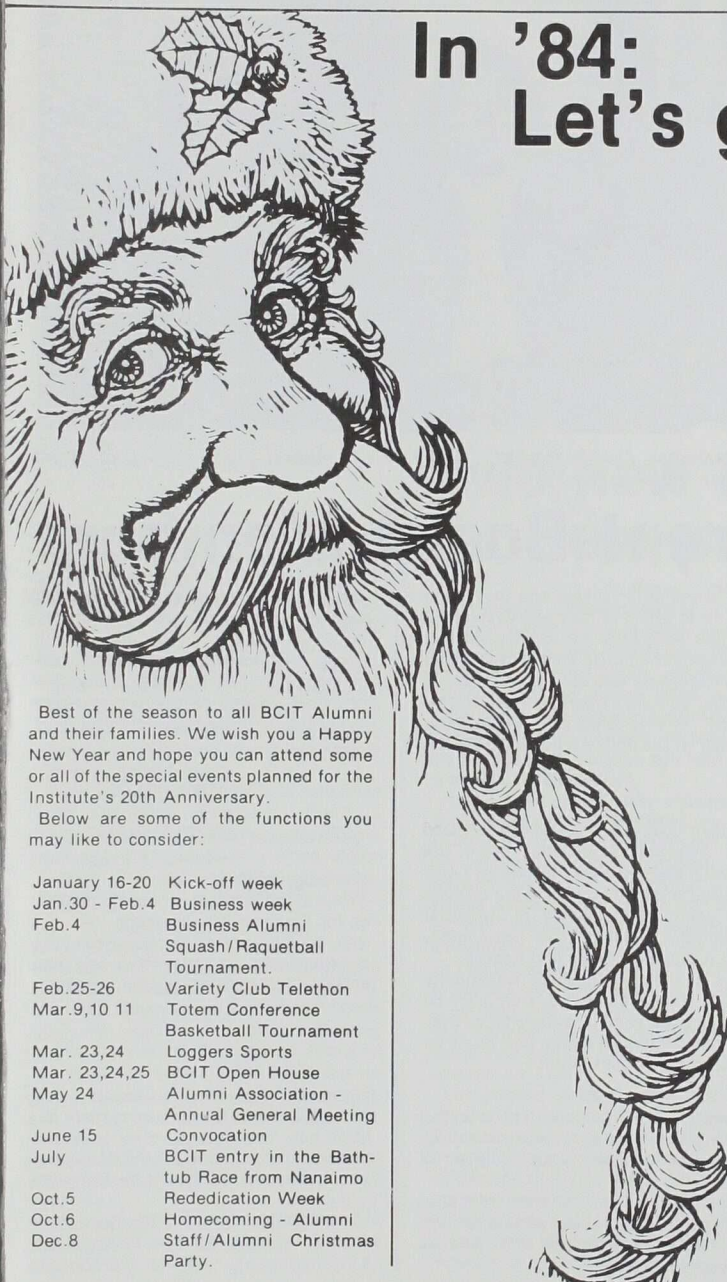

It would be nice to have a spokesperson from every class from each year, as we are keen to have as much representation as possible.

Please complete the questionnaire on page 11 and let us know your intentions of attending.

Two new challenges for new president

by Grant Crittenden.

The Annual General Meeting of your Alumni Association is over and the highlights you will find above. We did pass the new constitution, which means that there will be another AGM in May, 1984. It is at this meeting that the rotation on your Board of Directors will begin and we hope that the rotation will help build a stronger organization.

If you have not already noticed, the Twentieth Anniversary of BCIT is coming up next year and this is what your Board will be working on. The first event where we will have active participation is Open House scheduled for March 23, 24 and 25, 1984. We have tentative plans to have a hospitality room set up for the Alumni and we would like to have the opportunity to see you. You never know: someone you know from the past may be there. We would like you to drop in and give us your name and current address so we can up-date our records.

The second event is the Twentieth Anniversary Reunion. This will be held in October, 1984, and we expect alumni from the first graduating class to the class of '84 to be around for a week-end of fun - meeting classmates and instructors you have not seen since you left the Institute. The Alumni Association has had many requests from various technologies for reunions and this one should satisfy everybody.

If you have any ideas about what you would like to see at the Reunion, please let us know. Let your fellow graduates know what is happening and encourage them to send their name into the Alumni Office so we can keep them informed. Is there anyone who would be willing to co-ordinate travel from their location to the reunion? Is there anyone who would be willing to help get their class list updated?

You have a good Board of Directors working for you this year and a couple of events in the 20th Anniversary that are geared specifically to the Alumni. It will be an enjoyable time if you do. Reunion '84 is in October. Keep it in mind.

Ralph: '64 student to '84 instructor

Feelings of excitement and optimism that drew a Burnaby South High School student to a spanking new BCIT back in 1964 still remain with him today - as an instructor.

Ralph Hargreaves of Biological Sciences was among the first graduating class at the Institute in 1966 in what was at that time known as the Food Technology in the Engineering Division.

"Being a student here was exciting," he remembers. "The two year program was a new concept of training and with a growing BCIT there was always something going on."

"There was a real community feeling back then. With a population of between five and six hundred students everybody knew everybody."

Ralph has seen a lot of changes over the years.

"At that time (1964) the campus consisted of the 1A building. There was no library and no facilities for extra-curricular activities. We had to go off campus for student events. It was during this time that W.A.C. Bennett announced the start of the '67 building. "The federal and provincial governments placed BCIT in a priority position when it came to funding."

Recalling, with fondness, the strict dress code for students and instructors, Ralph says, "I felt that it was a good idea and everyone went along with it with few objections."

Some things at BCIT have not changed though.

BCIT students.

"They are really great," Ralph says, "we are still getting the cream of the crop; they make my job most interesting."

When Ralph joined BCIT as a teaching assistant in 1968 after a two-year stint with Canada Packers, he found himself working with two of his ex-instructors - Ron Hyde and Sid Andersen. "It felt kind of strange at the time," he smiles.

Teaching at BCIT is obviously a labour of love for easy-going Ralph. He has seen a lot of changes in the past 19 years and in looking to the future he comments, "we ain't seen nothing yet."

The Society of Management Accountants of British Columbia Congratulates BCIT Graduates who earned the professional designation R.I.A. on completion of the prescribed course of studies and practical experience during 1983. Each R.I.A. is a specialist trained to develop, select, analyse and interpret quantitative and other information essential to knowledgeable planning, controlling, reporting and management of information and other assets.

AND NOW. . . the envelope, PLEASE

Forest Products instructor Barry McKinney received the Alumni Association award for "recognition of his perseverance and dedication in ensuring that BCIT would stand out as a learning institute" at the Annual General Meeting.

Barry graduated in 1969 in what was then called the wood option of the Forest Products Technology. He travelled extensively before returning to BCIT in 1979 as an assistant instructor in Lumber and Plywood.

In 1980 Barry took on the job of trying to find and contact all BCIT grads in Lumber and Plywood. He suggested and developed the Bullshead, a newsletter that all Alumni in his technology receive. He successfully organized several reunions and workshops. This past spring he organized a computer quality control program in which Alumni spent one day at a mill followed by a social program.

Barry has developed a strong allegiance among Lumber and Plywood Alumni and has served the Alumni as a whole by sitting on the BCIT Board of Directors as an Engineering Rep and as Secretary from 1980 - 1982.

Deane: It was a very good year

Out-going Alumni President Michael Deane gave a report on the past year to Board members at the Annual General Meeting.

"It was basically a quiet year," he explained, "with the main emphasis on updating our mailing list which now contains 11,000 Alumni members."

He also pointed out that members were not charged a fee during this year and added that fees charged in future years will be decided on by the new board.

Constitutional changes were made this year. Beginning in May, 1984 the Alumni Board of Directors will be elected by mail-in ballots allowing all members the opportunity to vote.

An affordable life insurance package for Alumni was made available by the Fidelity Life Insurance Company.

Michael made a plea for Alumni to get involved in the Board of Directors, the Educational Council and as volunteers for the 20th Anniversary celebrations next year.

"With cutbacks and restraint programs I feel that we should all try to protect our education programs and keep the high standards BCIT has maintained throughout the years. The Alumni, roughly 20,000 of us are the largest single group of friends that the Institute has."

Michael thanked Jerry Lloyd, Joyce Payton and Ann Boles for their involvement and help with the association.

He asks that all volunteers and those seeking more information on the Association call the office at 434-5734, local 847.

Institution loses an institution

The institution of BCIT recently lost one of its own institutions - Director of Marketing and former Dean of Students, Jerry Lloyd.

Jerry left at the end of October to take up the duties of Principal of PVI's Sea Island campus in Richmond.

He began his career at the Institute in September 1969 as coordinator of student activities and, in 1971, was made coordinator of student affairs.

"One of my duties at that time," he grins, "was walking around at exam time with a bag of neckties - handing them out to male students who had left theirs at home. BCIT, under Principal Cecil Roper, had a strict dress code: skirts and blouses for females; jackets and ties for males. This was an attempt to market BCIT students to employers as executive material.

"I served on the Traditions Committee whose major debate focused on the wearing of pant suits by women students, a very serious matter in that they were the style of the day."

Jerry recalls with amusement the time some Mining students approached him for permission to use BCIT's recreation facility (then located at PVI) for a dance at which they planned to serve beer.

"After they received the go-ahead from then-Principal Goard and assured me they would leave the place clean I OK'd it."

"The morning after the dance I was summoned to Goard's office. 'I think we have a problem' he said."

"Turns out the 'dance' was the student's annual stag and a commissionaire reported seeing 200 men watching naked women dancing on stage."

He also had to deal with the crusading

Jerry Lloyd

Jack Smuggler, editor of the student newspaper The Link.

"Jack mounted a campaign to do away with the dress code and appeared in his publication as the centerfold wearing nothing but a great long tie.

"He also opposed the annual campus queen contest and was instrumental in having it abolished after entering it one year in drag."

Mischievous antics of the student kept Jerry busy through the years. He once had a 3 a.m. call to drive to Blaine to bail out a group who had become unruly at an Engineering Society stag. Many a night he was summoned to the old Willingdon residence to haul skinny-dipping students out of the pool.

Jerry's career at BCIT includes many proud and rewarding moments.

"One of the most satisfying to me was the opening of the Maquinna Residence, feel that we truly became a campus at that time, in line with the universities."

He has also had an excellent rapport with the students and the affection they hold for him is obvious in the many citations and awards he has received from them.

Of BCIT, he says, "BCIT is a fantastic institute, it puts great students into the marketplace, it has a solid reputation in industry in the province and has really come of age.

"I have had the opportunity to work with a great group of people and consider the Campus Life group to be among the greatest bunch I have known.

"One thing I would like to see at the Institute, however, is the return to extra mural athletics to campus, students should have the opportunity to participate in these team sports as do students in the universities and most community colleges. "Ten years down the road they may not remember the great lectures they had at BCIT but they are sure to recall that great trip to Trail."

Jerry is excited about his PVI appointment. "It's one hell of a challenge for me, I'm looking forward to getting my head back into the academic side of education. I feel that the next five years will see a tremendous growth for that campus as more and more people are seeking skilled trades.

All Jerry's friends and colleagues at BCIT, as well as Alumni who have worked with him, wish him well but in the words of his assistant/secretary, Joyce Payton "we're going to miss him."

Grads meet

An informal wine and cheese party was hosted by Linda Bell, Secretary of the Alumni Association, Nov. 9 at the Prince Rupert Hotel.

BCIT grads gathered to discuss the 20th Anniversary, Open House 1984 and the up-coming plans for a reunion.

Those who attended were Erwin Cachero and Marcello Vendittelli (Building '83), Joe Fernandes (Mechanical '83), Tom Timms (Admin. Man. '72), Alan Hansen (Traffic and Transportation '72), Jack Mussallem (Admin. Man. '79), Dan Basso (Admin. Man. '82) and Laurie Gordon (Forestry '72).

John Emes Basic Health Sciences instructor is the grand prize winner of the BCIT 20th Anniversary logo design competition. John's design, which incorporates the three BCIT colours, will appear on all publications produced during our 1984 anniversary year as well as letterhead, envelopes, etc.

John claims he has no formal art training but "I like the BCIT colour scheme and took my idea from the CN logo."

The logo is incorporated into the Alumni News this issue and will appear on all issues during 1984.

Special thanks to all Alumni who entered the contest, the committee had a tough decision to make as the entries were of a particularly high calibre.

Hotel discount

A corporate rate of 10 to 12½% off the advertised price is offered to members of the BCIT Alumni Association at the 20 Sandman Inns in B.C., Alberta and Saskatchewan.

John Riddell, Hospitality and Tourism grad of '72, is Director of Marketing for the chain. He also arranges special group bookings and travel arrangements. He is located in the Vancouver Corporate offices at 736-7254.

The discount is given on presentation of the 1984 Alumni card which will be mailed to those who fill in and return the application form on page 11. Be sure and mail it in today!
