BCIT grads, staff dominate in election

BCIT grads and employees dominated the recent elections for the executive of the Society of Engineering Technologists of B.C. last month.

Survey graduate John Shortreid is the incoming SETBC president.

Marsh Heinekey, civil and structural program instructor is now past-president of SETBC.

Allan Williams of Continuing Education and Industry Services was elected as second vice-president. He also received the society's award for outstanding service in technological education.

BCIT's Dean of Engineering, Bob Mason was elected an Honorary Member of SETBC.

SETBC is a non-profit, self-governing body committed to ensuring a high quality technician and technologist so as to provide assurance of technical and professional competence to industry, government and the general public.

It has four basic areas of operation: certification and registration of technologists and technicians; accreditation of educational programs in technology; member services; and services to and for business, industry, government and the general public.

Ed council to meet tonight

The April meeting of the Educational Council will be held tonight in the PVI Board Room. This may be the last meeting before September.

A buffet dinner will be served before the meeting in the Staff Dining Room, Food Training Centre, to welcome new members and to thank those members not returning to the council in September.

The agenda features plans for a council workshop in September, and an update on the course outline policy and format.

The motion which was tabled at the last meeting, to have the Staff Society nominate a representative to each Educational Council Task Force, will also be discussed.

Krueger named top food exec of year

The Food Executive of the Year award for the Vancouver area for 1981 was presented April 14 to BCIT's Nick Krueger.

Krueger is program head of the Hospitality and Tourism Program. He was presented with the award at the B.C. leadership night and president's head table meeting of the Canadian Food Services Executives Association (CFSEA).

The award is sponsored by Good Host Food Services.

It includes a plaque, air fare to and some costs for the national convention of the CFSEA in Kingston, Ontario in June, a blazer with a crest and a chance to win the national award.

The CFSEA is made up of hospitality industry executives and is presented in recognition of professional experience, educational standing and performance with the CFSEA.

Krueger has been a member for more than 20 years and is a past-president. He won the Active Member of the Year award in 1967 and 1972.

Those attending the banquet included BCIT President Gordon Thom and 30 other presidents of companies.

No issue for next month

In an effort to trim some funds and until the budget allocations are made, Developments will not be published for at least next month.

Remember, June 18 at 1 p.m. is a regular Board of Governors meeting in the board room.

Scholarship available

Applications for the Barbara Hough Memorial Scholarship must be submitted by May 15.

The scholarship is available to any former foster child who can use the Hough fund to help further his or her education.

Barbara Hough was a Catholic Family and Children's Services Supervisor and Board Member who died in 1974.

She was personally interested in helping young people who have been in foster homes.

To perpetuate her interest, the fund was established through

Catholic Community Services for children who have been in care and are now pursuing a post-secondary education.

The presentations will be made at the Annual General Meeting of Catholic Community Services on May 25.

Last year the scholarships awarded were $350, $350, and $200.

If you know of anyone who could use this scholarship call Mrs. A. Arce for further details at: 683-0281.

Jose Viray back in Manilla

Jose Viray, BCIT's acting assistant manager budget accounting, returned home to Manila April 23.

Ms. Viray had worked at BCIT for the past six years.

She plans to enter a Master of Business Administration program in Manila.

However, she hopes to return to B.C. in a year or two to start work in a Chartered Accountancy or Certified General Accountancy program.

Apply now for leave

BCIT's Contract Administrator Eileen Stewart would like to remind all BCGEU employees that the Employee Development Committee (Article 19 of the collective agreement) is accepting applications for professional development leave.

Deadline for applications for full-time leave must be received before Jan. 1 of each year.

Deadline for applications for part-time leave is three months prior to the time of leaving.

Please note that requests for reimbursement of fees, materials, etc. for courses/seminars where leave from work is not required may be exempt from the time limits.

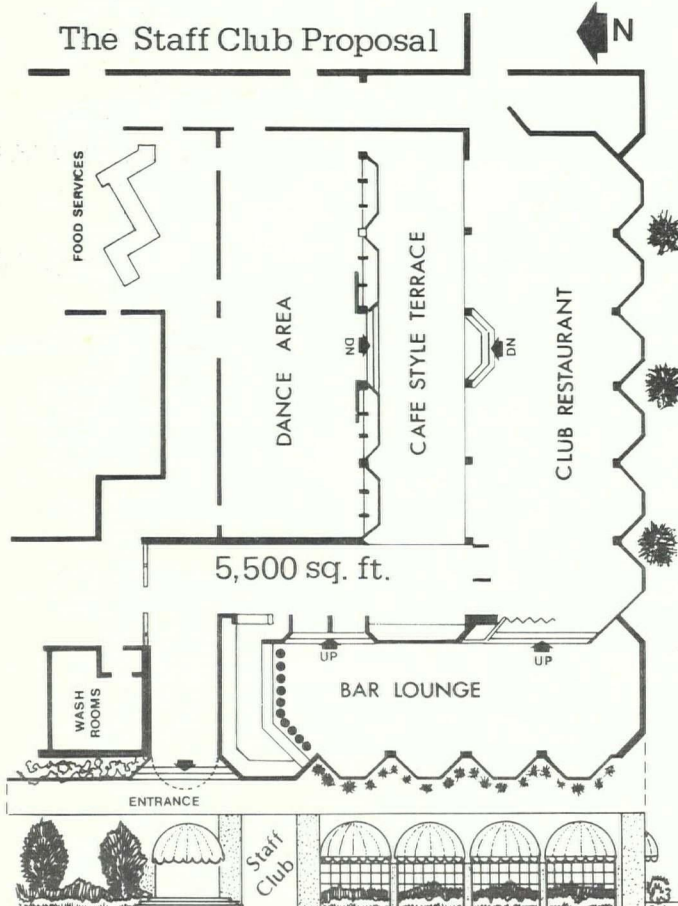

However, all requests must be considered before the course is taken, not after it is completed.

Application forms may be obtained from the Personnel/Labor Relations office or a shop steward.

For more information, call Eileen Stewart at local 899.

Year of disabled grants available this month

Application forms are now available at BCIT for grants from the provincial government for projects relating to the International Year for the Disabled Person (IYDP).

Closing date for applications is May 29 and projects will be funded to a maximum of $30,000 with exceptions for outstanding projects.

BCIT's disabled persons committee will be submitting a proposal as outlined in a story in Developments April 16 issue.

The BCIT committee is looking forward to the rapid acceptance of its recommendations, said committee member Gerry Weeks.

Some projects the committee hopes to fund are: a read/write machine and talking calculators for the blind and partially sighted; upgrading and brailing of campus signs and maps; and renovations to improve access to campus buildings for disabled persons.

Everyone is invited to see the library display of books, pamphlets, periodicals, films, kits and tapes on the disabled person.

Application forms are available from Gerry Weeks in the library or from the B.C. Committee for the International Year of the Disabled, 254 - 800 Hornby St., Vancouver, B.C. V6Z 2C5. Call 668-2433.

Students heard at meet

Presentations from 12 BCIT Operations Management Technology students were included in the proceedings of the 2nd Annual International Council for Small Businesses.

The council was held in Vancouver April 10 and 11.

Program Head Glen Murray said the 12 students prepared four presentations for the meeting.

Topics of the papers were: How to Choose a Photocopier, A Word Processor and a Small Computer and How to Conduct a Communications Audit.
