

MILLWRIGHT

Traditionally, a millwright installed or repaired machinery in a mill. Today, millwrights work in sawmills, pulp and paper mills, mines, chemical plants, manufacturing and other industries. In some provinces millwrights erect or relocate machinery, while industrial mechanics take care of overhaul and maintenance. In B.C., millwrights may be required to perform installation tasks as well as maintain and repair equipment.

- Program Length: 6 months*
- Normal Course Hours: 0800-1500
- Regular intake on the first Monday of every month when space is available.

*PLEASE NOTE: Program length may vary up to 20% plus or minus for students who are faster or slower than average. There will be additional costs for students who exceed the projected length of the program. Students will not be allowed to proceed at a rate that would extend the length of the program by more than 20%.

Employment Opportunities

Some opportunities are expected in northern B.C. (mainly union). Very few opportunities in town. Graduates should be prepared to take any entry level jobs available in the trade at this time as apprenticeships are difficult to find. Those who can gain enough experience on the job (usually 5 years) may be eligible to write the Trades Qualification (T.Q.) examination.
